

The EZ-FLO Authorized Installer Training Program

EZ-FLO offers irrigation and landscape contractors an opportunity to become part of our Authorized Installer (AI) Group.

The AI Group is a special group of installers that have taken a factory-designed and approved course and can demonstrate mastery of the concepts and information presented in the Authorized Installer course.

AI members demonstrate their mastery of the information by passing a test at the end of the course to determine that they understand how to properly use EZ-FLO products and fertilizers, how systems are sized to a property, integrated into an irrigation system, and how they are properly installed and maintained. Once an installer has passed the AI test, they will become an Authorized Installer and will be listed in special section on EZ-FLO's website. Classes are conveniently web based.

Factory and Technical Support

EZ-FLO has a nationwide network of factory sales representatives that are available for training and technical support in the field or at your location. They are supported by our sales, engineering and technical support.

Consumable product support is also available from our team of Alliance Partners who provide you one of the most extensive and independent variety of environmentally superior landscape horticultural solutions delivered through the irrigation system.

Distributor Support

EZ-FLO is available nationwide through leading irrigation wholesale distributors. For a distributor in your area please give us a call or check our website. Stocking distributors offer training, sales collateral and territorial support from our local representative network.
